The Penn Quill

William Penn High School

New Castle, Delaware

Foreword

We sincerely hope that, as you browse through the pages of this annual, many pleasant memories of high school experiences will come to mind.

In these pages we intend to present a brief description of typical happenings throughout William Penn. In years to come, we hope that these experiences will become valuable to you.

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation to our advisor, faculty members, and students who have helped to make this book possible. Now we present to you our 1957 Penn Quill.

Sincerely yours,

Janet Grimes
David Bankes
CO-EDITORS

Dedication

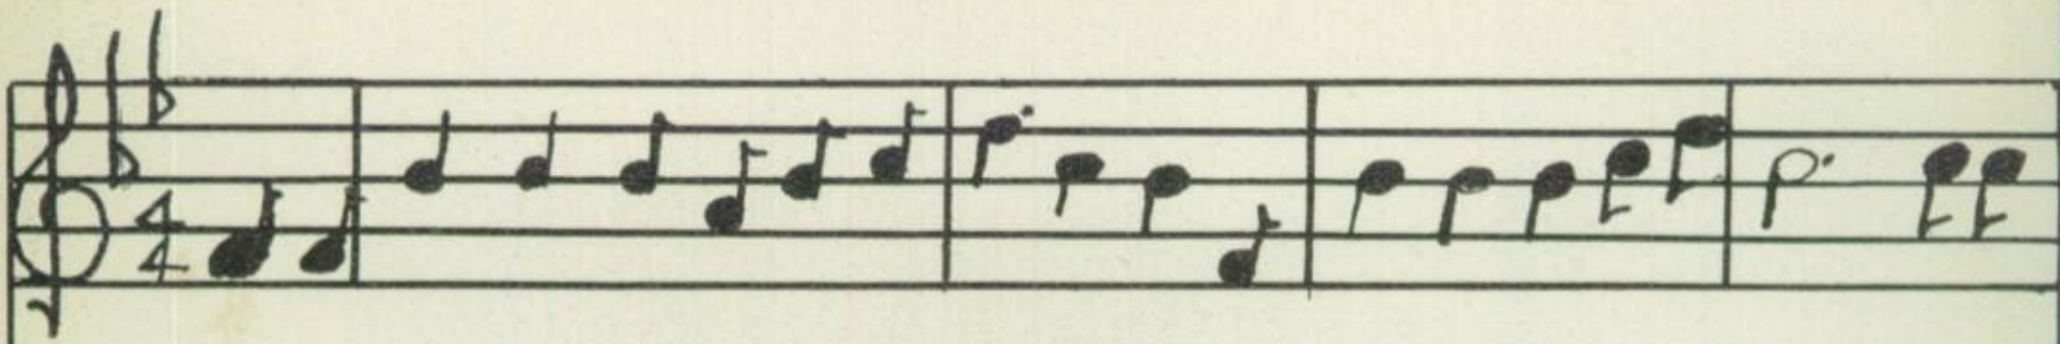

Out of the many teachers of William Penn, we feel that you, Mrs. Newton, highly deserve some appreciation for your duties. Your sincere class instructions, your unselfish free-time assistance and your strong desire to have us learn have not, by any means, been overlooked. All have spoken well of your guidance of the Honor Society and the Senior Class trips.

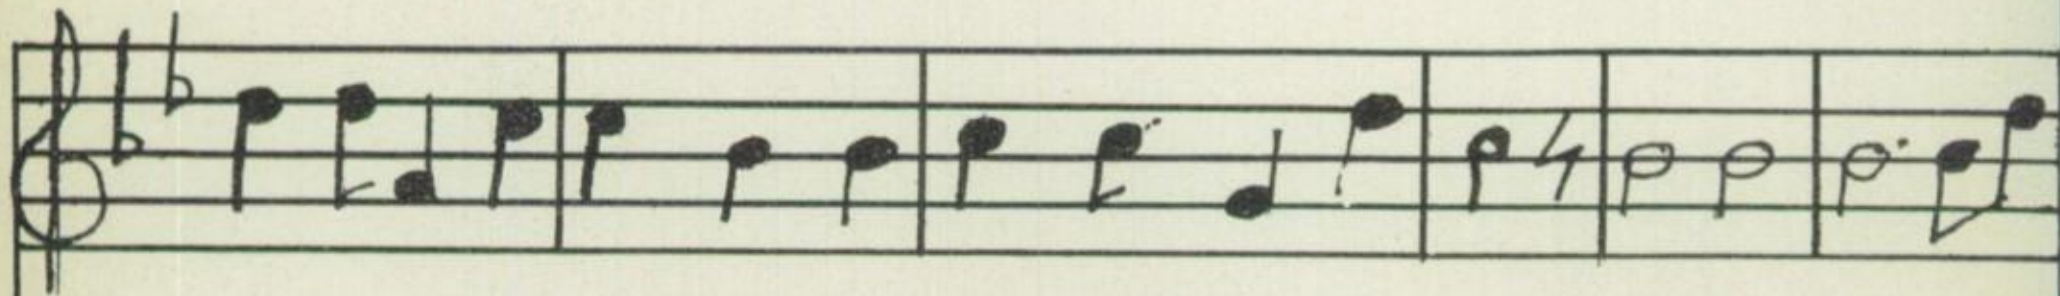

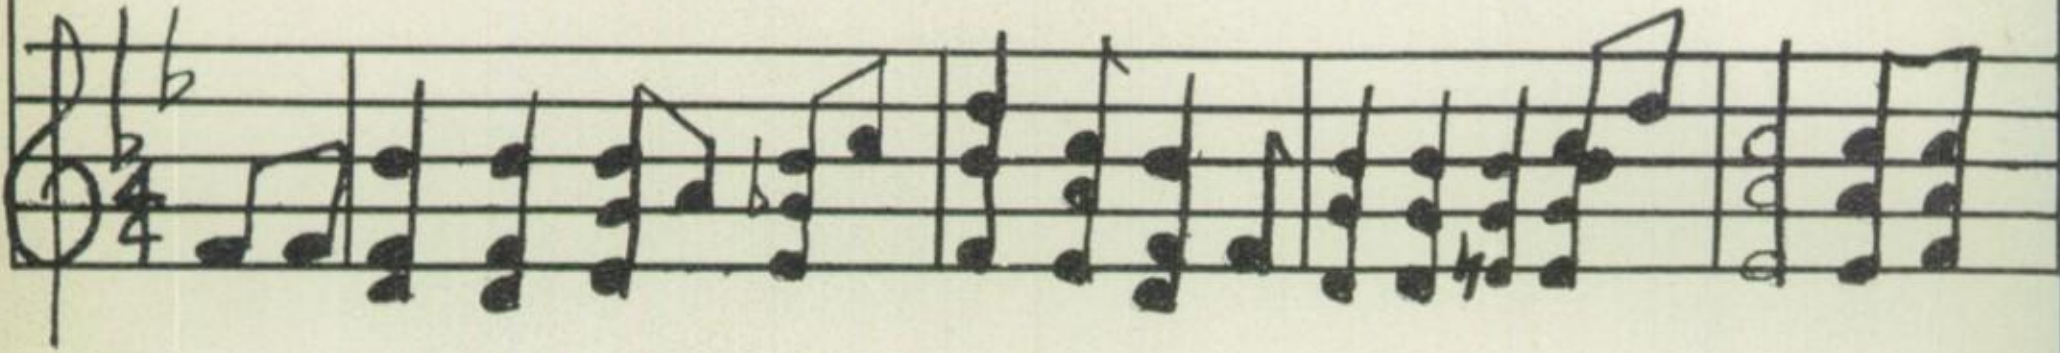

Appreciation is often hard to express and to give, so let us say thank you, Mrs. Newton, as we the Class of 1957 dedicate our Penn Quill to you.

*Best wishes
Florence Newton*

A Typical Day

At 7:50 the first students move into the building

The Yearbook of 1957 has tried to reflect the motion and alertness of William Penn. In its sports, its activities, and its learning process, our school is seldom idle. These first sixteen pages represent typical phases of almost any school day. The rest of the book continues to reflect the progress of our students as they move toward graduation.

To the Graduates of 1957:

The Board of Education wishes to extend to the members of the graduating class our very best wishes for your continued success.

Many people - parents, citizens, the Board of Education, Administrative officers, teachers and other school personnel - each in their own special way have been involved in providing a very fine school system and a high school of which we are all proud.

We, as members of the Board of Education, are happy to have been able to contribute a small share of this effort. We hope that you take your citizenship responsibilities seriously and will make a similar effort for the boys and girls who will follow.

NEW CASTLE, DELAWARE
Telephone 8-2344

To the Graduates of the Class of 1957:

On behalf of the Board of Education, the faculty, and the administration of the schools I extend our congratulations and commendation upon the successful completion of your public school education.

William Penn High School is accredited by the Middle Atlantic States Division of the National Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. You may well be proud of the fact that you have graduated from this institution.

You have had many opportunities to prepare yourselves academically, vocationally, and socially for your next step. If you have applied yourselves conscientiously there is no doubt in our minds as to your future success.

But remember that a diploma in itself from any educational institution is not a guarantee of future success. It simply opens doors of opportunity which otherwise would be closed to you. Whether you go on to college or go into a vocation immediately, you will always be faced with the responsibility and the opportunity for additional training. Keep going with the assurance that we will be very much interested in your future.

A Message From Our Principal

Congratulations to you, the class of 1957! We of the staff, who have been in a large measure responsible for you educationally over the years, are happy to see you reach this momentous occasion of graduation. You cannot now escape the reflection which your representation will cast back upon it. May it be that each will continue to be proud of the accomplishments and high standards of achievements and behavior for which we have stood individually and collectively through these years.

Success means many different things to many people. To some it may mean just having a job; to others it might mean having a job they like; and to others it might mean having a job they like and can do well. Whatever your interpretation just be certain that, "in leaving your footprints in the sands of time, you don't leave the mark of a heel."

The past four years, which have flown by so quickly, contain memories of studies, friends, and fun. Since all good things must come to an end, thus the good years of the Class of 1957 have been brought to a close. As we leave our Alma Mater, let us say Thank You to . . .

MR. WHITE, because he has helped so many of us to secure jobs.

MR. MOFFETT, who helped make each pep fest a success, and yet kept our good behavior in sight.

MR. TRINKAUS, for his guidance of the Penn Quill Staff.

MR. BUCHER, who taught us chemistry and algebra and as our class sponsor added fun and enjoyment to our class activities.

MR. MAY, who led us through our Junior year, always carrying the "headache" of our financial problems.

MR. REID and MR. PANCOAST, for our superior music department.

MR. STOVER and MR. HOPKINS, for backing the Student Government and answering our many questions.

DR. HUSTON and MR. KEIM, for adding their musical talents to our mighty pep fests.

MR. WOOD, MR. COLE, MR. CHAPMAN, MISS HARRISON who have geared our athletes on to numerous victories.

MR. DUNLAP, for his time and effort toward our plays; plus his work on our "Argus."

 Exchange Student from Greece.

Exchange Students

Each year the American Field Service sends us an exchange student from a foreign country, who, as he is learning about life in America, teaches us about life in his own land. This year we have had George Xanthopoulos, from Athens, Greece.

In Greece, George attended Athens' College, a boy's school equivalent to an American high school. He spent his free time with friends, going to parties, dances, and movies. During the summers, the same group of friends have always gone swimming or engaged in other sports.

Last summer, two of our own students went abroad on the A.F.S. program. Judy Jennings went abroad to Istanbul, Turkey, and Joe Turner went to Celle, Germany. Judy had a very exciting summer, living just as if she were a Turkish girl. While enjoying her visit, she learned much about the customs of the ancient city. Joe had an equally interesting trip abroad, spending the summer with a typical German family. Joe also learned much about the country in which he was living.

All three students have benefited from the experiences offered to them by the American Field Service, and they wholeheartedly support it.

*Our Father who art in Heaven
 Hallowed be thy name
 Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done
 On earth as it is in Heaven,
 Give us this day our daily bread
 And forgive us our trespasses
 As we forgive those who trespass against us.
 And lead us not into temptation
 But deliver us from evil
 For Thine is the kingdom
 And the power and the glory
 Forever and ever
 Amen.*

Senior Play 1957

The Class of 1957 presented its second production, "January Thaw," on November 16, 1956, under the direction of Mr. John Dunlap. This year's play proved to be even funnier than the class's previous one. All three acts were filled with humorous incidents which kept the audience in gales of laughter.

The play concerned a happy family living in an old Connecticut farm house and the many difficulties they encounter with the appearance of the past owners of the house. With the help of a few other eccentric characters, the story becomes more involved and increasingly interesting.

The successful production was a result of long and tedious rehearsals, and the determination of both the director and cast.

Senior Class History

Our high school calendar began back in 1953, when we became Freshmen. At last we were in high school with the older students. But say, didn't the upperclassmen, especially the Seniors, look smooth and sophisticated? We wondered if we'd ever reach that year of distinction. It seemed so terribly far away. But despite our size, we actually were stepping towards leadership. Now we could play Junior Varsity football, sing in the A Cappella Choir, and join clubs for "Senior High" only.

We soon found ourselves in our Sophomore year. As many new students came to us from Colwyck School, our class grew, thus giving us many new friends. Our activities also increased as we began having class projects such as our fun-packed picnic at Rockford Tower. Individual homerooms began to hold assembly programs, with Mr. Fenton's and Mr. Dymond's classes combining to present a program with varied talents, and Mrs. Strickberger's room recording a Halloween spook play for the student body and a local radio station.

Then it was 1955, and we who had so admired upperclassmen, had reached the first step of our main goal. We were Juniors! We began our eventful year by selling fruit cakes at Thanksgiving and Christmas. To these sales we added those of Christmas cards, surpassing the sales of the previous year's Junior Class. We went on building up our treasury by selling school pencils plus Easter and Mother's Day cakes. Aside from sales, we held successful events such as our "Sock Hop." Under the direction of Mr. Dunlap, we presented "Out of the Frying Pan" to a full auditorium. The year was almost gone, but not complete until we planned and decorated for the Junior-Senior Prom, thus putting a pleasant ending to our third high school year.

At last it was fall once more, and we had finally arrived as the leaders of the school. It was still hard to believe that we were actually Seniors, and would soon be leaving William Penn. We began our yearly events early by presenting "January Thaw," a play which made the audience rock with laughter. We were kept busy ordering pictures, name cards, announcements, and other Senior "musts." Sooner than expected Christmas arrived, and we gave our annual Christmas dance, all aglow with music, tinsel, and mistletoe. Our fund-raising projects had just about come to an end as we began making definite plans for our trip to Washington, D. C. Oh, the fun we had! Something hilarious was forever happening. Our Senior year was quickly fading from view when we had our Prom. Ah, the memories of one's Senior Prom! We'll always remember the dreamy music, the lovely king and queen, and each one's "special" escort. For the lowerclassmen, this event was the final spring activity. To us it was just a reminder of the coming end of our high school days. At last graduation did come, when each one heard his name ring out clearly perhaps with a slight tear in each eye.

Our days at William Penn have come to an end, but we will always have memories to remind us of the importance of the time spent here. To those who follow us, we wish as many happy and valuable days as we ourselves have experienced here.

Underclassmen

Junior Class

The Class of 1958 has had a busy year, undertaking the usual job of selling Christmas cards, seasonal fruit cakes, and pencils with our school name imprinted on them. Everyone co-operated with our sales, thus giving us very successful results.

Aside from our money-making projects we held social events such as the "Sadie Hawkins Dance," and "The An Tostal," an annual Saint Patrick's Day dance. Both affairs were very enjoyable. Later in the year we gave our Junior Class play, under the direction of Mr. Dunlap. Our final activity as a Junior Class came just before the close of school when we sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom.

During the past year we have been guided by Mr. Thompson, Mr. Reinbold, Mr. Keim, Dr. Huston, Mrs. Newton, and Mr. May.

Our industrious class officers for 1957 were: President, Jack Stoltz; Vice President, John Ferguson; Business Managers, Dianne Thatcher and Pat Young.

Activities

Student

Government

The job of a school government is to represent the students and to improve inter-school and intramural relations. Our representatives are chosen with this in mind, thus giving William Penn a good governing body.

During the past year the Student Government has worked very hard, making sure that the Student Body felt its presence. The officers were determined to make the Student Government a success, and with much work, they have succeeded.

Due to the increased enrollment of the school, it was necessary to form two governing bodies, one for the Junior High School and one for the Senior High School. The two groups worked on individual problems, but combined their ideas on mutual plans and concerns.

To give scholastic rating more importance, the school government backed the Honor Roll and the Student of the Month. It also improved student spirit by presenting the "First Annual Talent Show," which is now to be a major event for the years to come. Dances were given more attention than ever before, especially with the Junior High in mind. The most successful of the large affairs were the Harvest Ball and the Spring Semi-Formal.

To create an interest in other schools, our government began an exchange student program with various schools. In this program we received for one day a student from another school in exchange for one of our students. To learn about other schools' councils, our Student Government took an active part in various extra council meetings, such as the meetings of the New Castle County Student Government Association. Also, three representatives were invited to attend the Delaware Safety Council at Dover. By attending such meetings, the representatives gain many worthy ideas which are put to use here at William Penn.

I Speak for Democracy

Each year students of high schools in the United States and its territories are eligible to enter the "I Speak for Democracy" contest, which is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The winner chosen from each school goes into further competition for the county finals, and if successful, may proceed to the state and national titles. Each contestant must give a five-minute speech based on the freedoms granted to the people of a democracy, and on what democracy means to him.

This year's winner for our school was David Bankes, whose speech used the voting curtain as a symbol of our democracy. The other finalists of the contest were: Judy Johnson, Dorothy Lawton, Eleanor McDowell, Carol Moyle, Leonard Stewart, and Ben Vandegrift.

Argus
This year the Argus, under the direction of Mr. John W. Dunlap, did not operate as one of the clubs, but as a journalism class which met five days a week and gave a full credit toward graduation. Each member of the class had a certain assignment for each deadline. As a result of having class time devoted to it, the newspaper was published more efficiently than ever before. On Friday of every week each student received a copy of the publication.

Boys' Glee Club

As usual, an important section of William Penn's vocal department is the Boys' Glee Club. The thirty-two members are all students from the Senior High School. The boys, directed by Mr. Charles Reid, take pride in their singing, and thus give very good performances, as was shown in both the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Girls' Glee Club

Although its members change with the passing of time, the Girls' Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Mary Nichols, continues to display very good vocal talent. Its sixty-five members, ranging from the ninth to the twelfth grades, combine their talents to present enjoyable performances as given in both the Christmas and Spring Choral Concerts.

A Cappella Choir

After hard work in the Glee Clubs and in individual auditions, William Penn's select vocalists become members of the Choir. Because Choir membership is limited, the group represents a high quality of singing which is displayed whenever a performance is given.

The Choir, consisting of 50 regular members and 8 substitutes, presents various seasonal programs plus frequent appearances for organizations, churches, and hospitals. For one day they attend a County Vocal Festival, an annual event to which they all look forward. Despite their busy schedule, the Choir concentrates on intricate arrangements, which have many parts, adding to their high level of musical attainments.

To remember that everything isn't all work and no play, the Choir had a hilarious Halloween party and an enjoyable banquet.

Symphonic Band

The Bands

The regular band consists of forty members, many of whom have belonged to the group for several years. They have played at all the football games and have given their two yearly concerts.

A select group of forty students forms the symphonic band, an instrumental section of our music program. This band presented the usual Christmas and Spring Concerts, and participated in the Band Festival.

Both bands are under the direction of Mr. Wallace Pancoast.

AMATEUR CHEFS' CLUB

This year Miss Louise Archbold and Mr. Fred Thompson have both been directing the Amateur Chefs' Club. The membership of the club consists of boys desiring to learn the fundamentals of cooking, sewing, and caring for the kitchen. Their main goal during the year is to prepare and serve a dinner for parents, faculty and other guests.

BRIDGE CLUB

This year for the first time, there has been a Bridge Club, under the direction of Mr. Eugene Fogler. The club has progressed in learning to bid, play, and keep score. The students have had an enjoyable time learning this game, which many consider a worthwhile entertainment for future years.

SCHOLARSHIP CLUB

This year the Scholarship Club, directed by Mr. Eugene Bucher, was formed to create interest in college and its scholastic achievements. All the members of the club are students who seriously plan to attend college, either on a scholarship or by their own means.

STAMP CLUB

Both boys and girls with an interest in stamp collecting may enter the Stamp Club, directed by Mr. Francis Fenton. The club's 22 members are from the seventh through the twelfth grade. During the year they worked hard to enter the competition for the Edward Fenton Carley Trophy, which the DuPont and Wilmington Stamp Clubs present to the school making the most progress in stamp collecting. This trophy has been presented to William Penn in previous years.

FUTURE NURSES' CLUB

To arouse interest in the field of nursing, the Future Nurses' Club was once again organized and directed by Mrs. Marie La Vigne. Its 15 members learned what they could to determine the possibility of entering nursing as a career. As a worthwhile project, the girls assembled First Aid kits for all the teachers in the school. After a year of instruction, the girls now know what to expect in a nursing job.

STAGE CRAFT

The Stage Craft Club, under the supervision of Mr. Robert Benson, constantly gives its services to the school. The club is always called upon for help whenever assemblies of any type are given.

Although the boys in the club are from various grades, they all are trained to do the same jobs—to work the lights, to control the sound, and to set up props and scenery. The boys make most of the scenery which is used for the annual plays. As an added service, the club bought color slides for the lights, adding to the beauty of the assemblies.

LIBRARY AIDS

The Library Club, directed by Mrs. Katherine Armstrong, serves as a trainee class for student librarians. The students are taught the routine tasks of the library and the methods of keeping the library attractive.

As these students learn the skills and show that they are ready to serve at the charging desk during the school day, they are assigned to the library instead of study halls, providing that their scholastic work warrants it.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The 25 members of the Dramatics Club are students who are interested in the technical part of the theater. They concentrate on drama, speech, and the early development of the theater. Mr. John Dunlap, who directs them, also teaches them the art of applying stage make-up. The students acquire a good knowledge of basic principles of the theater while learning to work together as a unit.

FUTURE HOME MAKERS OF AMERICA

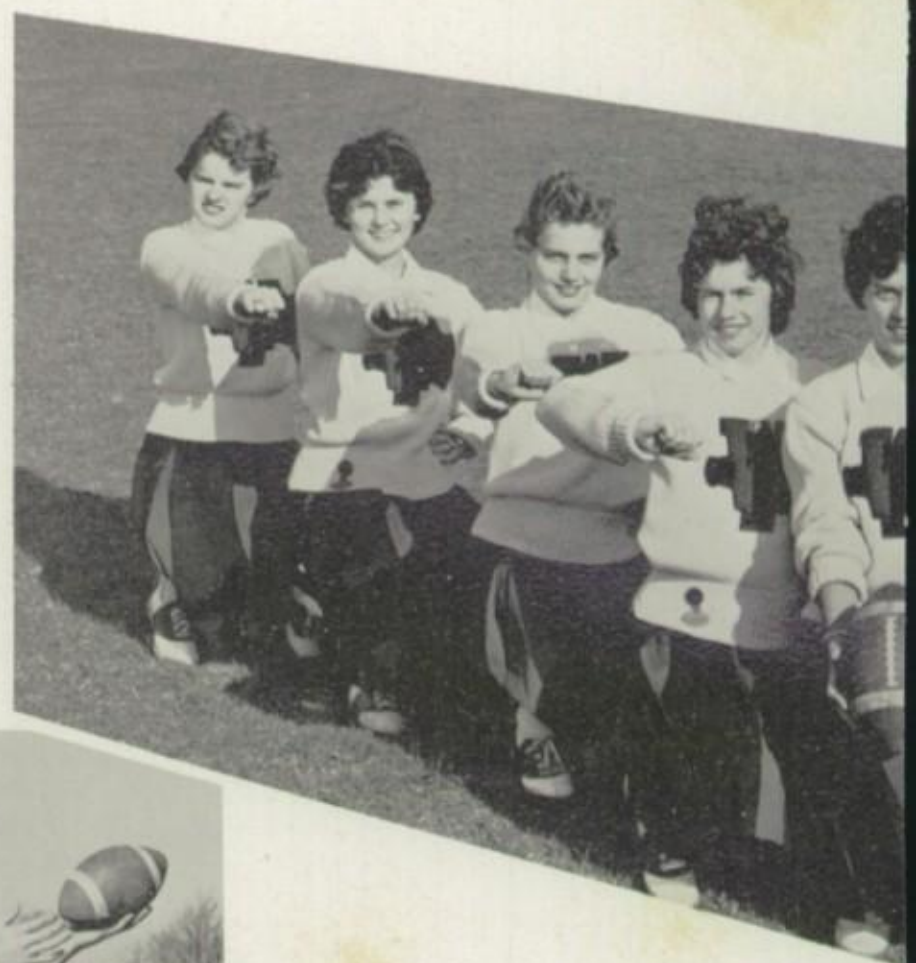

The Future Home Makers of America Club consists of 24 girls from grades 9 through 12 who have an interest in homemaking. Under the capable direction of Miss Ann Kloster, the club learned the correct way to budget money, smooth methods for home management, and successful ideas for having a good family atmosphere. Throughout the year, their main objective has been self-improvement.

Co-Captains

The William Penn Colonials of 1956 added another chapter to the legend of their continuous success. The record of seven wins against only one defeat didn't just happen. This year's team was the lightest in the history of the school. However, this year's team had more spirit and drive than any of our former teams. By using their speed against bigger, heavier teams, the Colonials made most of their games look pretty easy, but actually the boys had to fight all the way. Those who deserve recognition are Coaches Cole, Wood, and Chapman. Also deserving of praise are the eleven seniors, especially Jack Hiner, Jerome Pinkett, and Roger Smith, Penn's All-State players.

The Junior Varsity made a very impressive showing again this year. Their record was six wins and no defeats. We are all looking forward to the day when these boys come up to play for the Varsity.

Boys' Basketball

This year's basketball team played under the strain of being short compared to their competitors. Also only one member of last year's varsity returned this year. Under these difficulties the team made a pretty good showing for itself. The boys worked very hard to make up for the disadvantages they had. This year we dropped Middletown and added P.S. DuPont and Conrad to our schedule, making it a little rougher than in previous years.

Mr. Wood took over the position of varsity coach as well as retained his job as junior varsity coach. Much of the credit for the team's showing should go to him because of the hard work and long hours spent in grooming the teams.

Miss Grace M. Harrison, Coach

As usual, the girls' hockey team, under the capable direction of Miss Grace Harrison, had a good season, filled with team spirit and co-operation. The varsity, co-captained by Sallie Burris and Sandy Van Hekle, will lose nine of its members by graduation. However, judging from the successful season of the J.V. team, co-captained by Nancy Mitchell and Carolyn Rankin, next year's team seems to have chances for a pretty fine season. Good luck to all future hockey teams from the 1957 Penn Quill.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball team came through this season rather successfully. The experience of the team was matched only by the spirit, cooperation, and determination which the girls displayed. They practiced hard, every day after school, with Miss Grace Harrison coaching. The J.V.'s, co-captained by Linda Adams and Judy Angstadt, had an even more successful season than the Varsity, which was captained by JoAnn McBride. We sincerely hope that, next year, the girls' basketball team may have a season more successful than the season this year. The Varsity played eight games this season. They were victorious over the Alumnae, Newark, and Howard.

JACKIE RAYMOND and PAT PONDER

This year the Senior Class and the faculty have each had two new additions.

Jacqueline Raymond and Patricia Ponder joined the Seniors rather late in the year. Jackie transferred from Cory, Pennsylvania, and Pat came to us from Wethersfield, Connecticut. Both girls are taking the General Course.

Previous to coming to William Penn, Miss Virginia Prichard was on the Dean of Women's Staff at the University of Florida, where she served as Counselor of the women students. Mr. Edward Saulsbury also joined the faculty, coming to us from State College, Pennsylvania.

Baseball

The baseball team this year was one of the most successful William Penn teams in years. It didn't quite equal last year's unbeaten record, but it compiled a record of which any team could be proud.

Under the capable coaching of Mr. Cole, the Colonials extended their three-year winning streak to twenty-three games before dropping a close game to Dover. They snapped back from that loss with a resounding triumph over a strong Mt. Pleasant nine.

Track

During the 1957 track season the William Penn track team showed that it was one of the best produced by this school in recent years. During the past season, track made great gains in popularity.

The coaches, Mr. Ken Wood and Mr. Otis Chapman, should be given much of the credit for the success enjoyed by the team. Others who deserve many congratulations for the fortunes of the team are the seniors, Captain Roger Smith, Jerome Pinkett, Nick McGuire, Bill McCracken, Jim Dodd, Dave Michelow, and Bob Tattersall. Also deserving of credit are the juniors and sophomores who will be the stars of the 1958 William Penn track team.

Wrestling

Wrestling as a sport was introduced into William Penn in the 1955-56 season. During the 1956-57 season wrestling was carried on only as an intramural basis. In the Delaware Interscholastic Wrestling Tournament, all the boys took either a first, second or third place. In the 1957-58 season wrestling will be a varsity sport. Coach Otis Chapman has been training his boys for two years and is looking forward to next year.

Girls' Softball

Our sincere congratulations go to the Girls' Softball Team this year. These girls, with the capable coaching of Miss Grace Harrison, had the most successful season that a William Penn girls' team has had for many years. Six of the team's members, including Captain Sallie Burris have graduated. We can only hope that next year's team will have as great a success, not only in competition with other schools, but in creating the high team spirit and cooperation shown by all the girls.

Girls' Leader Corps

The Girls' Leader Corps, under the guidance of Miss Grace Harrison, is a group of girls who are bound together to promote service toward the school, to build leadership qualities, and to encourage good sportsmanship. In addition to promoting these goals, the girls strive to earn money for the purchase of new uniforms for the girls' athletic teams. For the first time in many years, the Leader Corps made five awards to girls engaged in athletic events. This is to be an annual presentation in the future.

As their school services, the girls serve cokes to the football team after each home game, publish and sell football programs, assist in leading gym classes, and sponsor two yearly Co-Rec Nights. According to the time spent on each service, each girl receives points which earn an emblem, letter, or pin for her.

Honor Society

The National Honor Society is made up of students from the junior and senior classes who have shown outstanding qualities in character, scholarship, leadership, and service. This year 17 new members were inducted into the society, raising the membership to 20.

Mrs. Florence Newton, the group's sponsor, has given much of her time in order to help the group in their financial and social activities. A profitable bake sale and a pleasure trip were the main events for the year. The proceeds from the bake sale will be used to buy membership pins for next year's new members.

Junior Play

"Off the Track," a three-act comedy by Felicia Metcalf, was presented on April 27, 1957, by talented members of the Junior Class who were under the direction of Mr. John Dunlap. The audience was well entertained by the humorous cast of characters who produced a successful production.

The entire play took place in an old railroad station along a wayside road, far from town. When a train jumped the track, several passengers were forced to spend the night in the station. The interest of the play centered around the reactions of these people.

Seated: Ann Kloster, Maynard Reinbold, Robert Williams, Donald Murtagh, Carolyn Cottrill.
Standing: Robert Barto, Otis Chapman, Charles Smith, Fred Thompson, Louise Archbold.

Faculty Play

On February 22, and 23, 1957, in William Penn auditorium, under Mr. John Dunlap's direction, the school faculty presented the Broadway and movie hit "My Three Angels," thus reviving the custom of an annual play entirely produced by William Penn teachers. Both nights' performances were highly successful and raised more than a thousand dollars. This money was put into a fund to be used for scholarships for deserving seniors wishing to go to college. This year's money was shared by David Bankes and Mary Ellen Stafford, both of whom will attend the University of Delaware.

Talent Show

The First Annual Talent Show, sponsored by the Student Government, proved to be one of the most successful events of the year. The success of the production was due to the assistance of the Student Government officers and representatives, the cooperation of the contestants, and the generous help of Willie Gaylord, who served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

The show was not organized just to promote competition, but to bring forth the hidden talents of William Penn students. As a result, everyone who was engaged in the show had a good time, and they combined their talents to produce an outstanding night of entertainment. The climax of the evening came when Linda Allen received a plaque designating her as the winner of this First Annual Talent Show.

Senior Prom

Beauty and splendor filled the Gold Ball Room of the Hotel DuPont on May 24, 1957, when our Senior Prom was held. From 9:00 to 1:00 the dancers swayed to the music of George Madden's Orchestra. The Prom, never before held away from school, proved to be a tremendous success, with more couples attending than in previous years. The climax of the evening came as the Prom Court entered the Ball Room and led the Grand March. Lois Jordan was crowned Prom Queen, as she was attended by Nancy Fisher, Janet Grimes, Dorothy Kinsella, and Sue Roberts.

Baccalaureate, the first of the two final exercises for the graduating Class of 1957, took place June 9, in the school auditorium. The Reverend James O. Reynolds gave the sermon, and was assisted by Reverend Brooks E. Reynolds, Reverend Paul E. Reynolds, and Reverend Wilbert B. Smith.

The following night, June 10, Commencement for the 124 graduating students was held. Mr. George McCarty, Professor of Speech at William and Mary College, gave the graduates an address entitled "Day After Tomorrow." The Salutatorian and Valedictorian speeches were given by Marie Pio-voso and Michael Powell, respectively.

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

- 6—Uggghh!! School daze again.
- 13—Turkish Invasion . . . Judy has returned.
- 22—Watch that pigskin! Football season is here, and Howard High took defeat with ease.
- 24—Joan Moore brought down the house in an assembly with her "Desert Song."

OCTOBER

- 4—6' 2" or 5' 1/4" ——— The Seniors were measured for caps and gowns.
- 5—The feminine "Red Devils" were swamped by the male "Colonials" at the pep fest.
- 6—Tear down the goal post!!! We defeated Wilmington High 22-0.
- 20—Dum-da-dum-dum! We've draped our trophies in black. The Newark-William Penn game resulted in a 14-13 score. Need we say more?
- 27—We reaped the harvest for the "Harvest Ball" and crowned Joan Pinder as queen, while Ben Morris's Band played on.

NOVEMBER

- 5—William Penn-ers elected "Ike" President in a grand school election.
- 6—The United States followed "W. P." by voting for "Ike" and gave us a day off.
- 22—It's Thanksgiving Day and Hunting Season for "Elk" in the Elkton area. Happy hunting for the Colonials!
- 26—The Junior-Senior Football game sadly marked the end of the football careers for many Seniors as the Juniors won 14-16.
- 26—Make the basket! The basketball season has begun.
- 29—Junior-Senior Hockey game ended the season.

DECEMBER

- 1—The Student Government presented the First Annual Talent Show. "Willie" Gaylord, Master of Ceremonies, kept the audience laughing and Linda Allen Charleston-ed her way to first place.
- 18—The Alumni basketball team lost to hardy Colonials.
- 19, 20—Christmas music is in the air, especially with the concerts being given by the choir, glee clubs and the band.
- 21—Merry Christmas! The holiday has begun with an early dismissal and the Christmas Dance which was sponsored by the Seniors.

JANUARY

- 1—Happy New Year!!
- 19—The Football Banquet gave us memories of Jerome as most-valuable player, of the speaker, of the busy waitresses, and of food, and more food.
- 25—Fire! Where? Of course, in the Farmers' Market. Our volunteer firemen were on the spot.

FEBRUARY

- 1—Darn those socks for the Sophomores' Sock Hop.

- 9—Hear the castanets? They are from Bambo's Cabaret, the cafe featuring the William Penn Band.
- 14—We're seeing red! And who shot that arrow? Oh, it was cupid—and this is Valentine Day!
- 16—Cupid helped the cheerleaders plan the "Sweet-hearts' Dance," where Queen JoAnn McBride was crowned.
- 20—Mr. Dickens calling? Well, no, ——— but another Englishman. His portrayals of the Dickens' characters entertained every one.
- 22, 23—You teachers look lovely in stripes, and stripes were never more appropriate than in "My Three Angels," the faculty play.
- 23—Fire! Where? This time it is in W. P. itself. The incinerator got confused and blackened the walls—but good.

MARCH

- 2—In the spring a young man's fancy turned to the "Springtime Melody," the Student Government's semi-formal. Roger Smith and Dianne Thatcher were the royal couple of the evening.
- 16—Don your green and get your Colleen—'tis fun for the Irish at the Antostal this St. Patrick's Day.
- 22—The induction ceremony for new members of the National Honor Society surprised many, but gave a happy start to the spring vacation. Vacation! Whoopee!

APRIL

- 1—The school burned down. April Fool!
- 21—Was that the Easter Bunny? Happy Easter!
- 27—What's "Off the Track" in the auditorium? The Junior Play.
- 30—Politicians grab a rostrum, for the campaigns are on! Who's to win? Student Party or Penn Party?

MAY

- 1—To the polls! And it's a straight Student Party.
- 22—Music is in the air again—this time for the Spring Concerts by the choir, glee clubs.
- 24—A tux, a gown, and flowers, and each couple is ready for the Prom. Mmmm—what a dreamy nite!!!
- 27, 28, 29—Look out, Washington! William Penn Seniors have arrived to see more, do more and behave better than ever before. And we did! ?
- 30—Are you on a picnic or just out swimming. Well, one or the other, it is Memorial Day!

JUNE

- 2—At the Choir Banquet the Senior members were given poems and gifts by which to remember the ones they left behind.
- 9—The Baccalaureate Service gave the Seniors food for thought and some very valuable advice concerning the future.
- 10—The Commencement Exercises, which marked the end of the school career for many of us, was very stimulating and thought-provoking.
- 15—Back again, Seniors, for the Alumni Banquet, not for studies.
